

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF MOTOGPVIPVILLAGE.COM

This website (only www.motogpvipvillage.com), including any section and/or sub-section accessible through the homepage (henceforth referred to as "the Website" or "Web"), is the property of, edited by and maintained by INTERNATIONAL EVENTS SERVICES, S.L.U. with domicile in Spain, Príncipe de Vergara 183, Madrid 28002. (henceforth referred to as "IES") and VAT number B-82.626.144. The Website does not include any sub-domain or sub-site.

Should you purchase any product or services through this Website, you may purchase them from INTERNATIONAL EVENTS SERVICES, S.L.U. or from any affiliate if so, specified as established in the particular conditions that you will have to expressly accept before any purchase. You should read carefully any PURCHASING POLICY before initiating any purchase.

By accessing, browsing or using the Website, you agree to the following terms and conditions and any other terms and conditions set forth in any part of the Website, without limitation or qualification:

- Any material collected on the Website, including, but not limited to, audio, images, software, text and/or video clips (hereinafter "Content"), is protected by Intellectual Property Laws. The Content may not be used in any manner other than as set forth in these Terms and Conditions and/or in the applicable Terms and Conditions of Purchase, and it is prohibited to remove copyright or trademark references or any other references. Any unauthorized use of the content of the Website will be sanctioned. Unless a specific Content is expressly authorized for downloading and it is so stated, the Content may not be downloaded. Consequently, any unauthorized download is a legal infringement with all its consequences.
- IES is not responsible for products or services offered, sold or provided by any third companies other than IES.
- You are only authorized to use the Website for personal purposes. Therefore, you shall be considered an end consumer and not a retailer. You are not permitted to provide, copy, exchange, modify, sell or transmit any Content that you access through the Website for any purpose, whether for profit or free of charge.
- Visiting the Website does not oblige you to purchase or contract any product or service. However, you may purchase products or services in accordance with the "Purchase Policy" that may be applicable to each product or service.
- You may be able to access third party websites through the Website. The fact that IES provides you with certain access to third party websites on the Website (for example, by means of links), does not mean that it approves, subscribes to or recommends these websites. IES is not responsible for the content of any third party and does not guarantee, expressly or implicitly, the precision, legality, accuracy or validity of any website not included on the Website.
- IES is not responsible for services and products offered by and/or purchased from third parties other than IES.
- In the event of purchasing certain products or contracting services from IES, IES will not assume any responsibility for any act or relationship established between you and the company operating the payment platforms.
- You agree and acknowledge that IES is not responsible for the content of third parties, such as any communication that you send us or may publish on the Website, and that IES will not assume any responsibility in cases of defamation, error, inaccuracy, slander, obscenity and/or profanity included in such third party content. IES, in the event that it becomes aware of the foregoing, may modify, edit or remove any material used or any conversation that may be considered illegal, indecent, obscene or offensive, or that violates IES's rules in any way. IES will fully cooperate with any governmental authorities and will comply with any court order seeking to identify anyone posting any such material.
- Except for the personal data that you provide when you register on the Website, any communication or material that you direct to us, such as details, questions, comments, ideas, suggestions or similar, will not be considered by IES as confidential information, so it will be understood that such communication or material is in the public domain. The aforementioned communications or materials may be used by IES for any purpose, including, but not limited to, reproduction, disclosure, publication, retransmission and posting. You also acknowledge and agree that IES may use, in any manner and for any purpose, any ideas, concepts or techniques contained in or derived from the relationship between you and Website, without any restriction, time limit or obligation of IES to compensate you for any such use.
- You acknowledge and accept that transmissions over the Internet are never completely private and secure, unless otherwise stated. Your communication with IES does not imply that IES assumes any responsibility or liability to you. When you access pages or sections in which the existence of a security control is specified, such as in the case of a possible bank transfer, the security of the information sent will be regulated in the conditions that may be applicable.
- You acknowledge and agree that access to the Website may be subject to interruptions and that, at times, all or certain Content may not be available. IES does not warrant that the Website will be error-free, uninterrupted or that your use of the Website and/or the Content, or any search or link on the Website will produce any particular result. IES shall not be liable for any damages of any kind arising from the use of the Website, including but not limited to direct, indirect, incidental, punitive or consequential damages. The Website and the Content will function whenever possible.
- IES shall not be liable, including but not limited to, for any loss or damages caused to computers, other devices or software as a result of your use of the Website or downloading of Content, whether caused by a virus or otherwise, and whether or not caused by any negligent act from IES.
- IES is not responsible for any and all liability for the acts, omissions and/or conduct of any user, advertiser and/or sponsor on the Website. IES is not responsible for references appearing on the Website to the products, services, actions or omissions of any third party, including event promoters and collaborators.
- You agree to indemnify and hold harmless IES, its staff and/or partners, in the event of losses, claims or demands and legal fees, if any, arising from your use of the Website, including, but not limited to, the uploading or publication of content, comments and/or links therein.
- The fact that IES or any of the subsidiaries of its Group delays in enforcing or does not enforce these Terms and Conditions of Use against the User does not mean that such companies waive their right to enforce these rules. In the event that a court determines that any of these Terms and Conditions are unenforceable for any reason, the rest terms shall remain in full force and effect and shall be enforceable. Nothing in these Terms and Conditions nor any action brought by the User, IES or any of its affiliates under these Terms and Conditions shall create or be deemed to create any partnership, joint venture, agency or any other type of relationship between the parties beyond the contractual relationship established under these Terms and Conditions.
- You agree to comply with any other additional conditions indicated in the Website, as well as any other conditions that must be modified in accordance with the Law or regulations. IES shall be authorized to modify all or part of these Terms and Conditions at any time, at its sole discretion, without prior notice. The use of the Website once changes have been published implies the acceptance of the modifications. IES reserves the right to modify, cancel, alter, replace, change, interrupt or suspend any content published on the Website, either temporarily or permanently, without prior notice and without assuming any liability in this regard provided that its rights are not affected.
- Force Majeure. IES will not assume any liability to you for the breach of any obligation contained in these Terms and Conditions provided that it is caused by Force Majeure. Force Majeure shall be understood to be those cases beyond the control of the parties, including, but not limited to, fire, war, vandalism, blockage of general means of communication, acts of government, terrorism, pandemics or infectious epidemics, etc.
- IES is authorized to assign any rights or obligations under these Terms and Conditions.
- These Terms and Conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Spain. You agree that any dispute, claim or disagreement relating to these rules shall be submitted to the competent courts of the city of Madrid, Spain. In the event that a dispute arises as a result of these Terms and Conditions, IES will attempt to resolve it. IES will make reasonable efforts to consult, negotiate in good faith, and try to reach a fair, equitable and satisfactory solution for both parties.
